VOL. VII. NO. 292.

CHICAGO, FRIDAY, DECEMBER 6, 1901.

PRICE 5 CENTS

WINNING TWO-YEAR-OLDS.

In the table below DAILY RACING FORM presents the records of the two-year-olds that won more or less fame this year. It does not contain the names of all two-year-olds that have won races, but of those left out none has been suspected of future greatness. No doubt several in the table will improve their records through winning at New Orleans or San Francisco between now and January 1, 1902. It contains the names of 130 two-year-olds, which jointly won, up to and including December 5, 736 races.

Running mostly over minor tracks, but running like a good filly, speedy and a fine stayer, Huntressa enjoys the distinction of having landed the greatest number of races, the incomparable Endurance by Right standing second in that particular. The leaders in races won in the last four years were as follows:

Year.	Horses.	Sts.	1st.	2nd.	3rd.	Unp.
1898	Esptonaga	35	20	6	2	8
	Golden Rule	18	12	3	0	3
1899	Bedduces	18	12	0	2	4
	Unsignity	31	12	8	4	7
1900	Garry Hermann	25	18	5	1	1
1901	Huntressa	38	17	11	5	5

It will be noticed that only two of these leaders in number of races won, Garry Hermann and Golden Rule could well set up pretensions to high class. The real stars of each season will generally be found in the number of horses having only a moderate number of starts against their names. Yankee, Heno, Nasturtium, Blue Girl, Leonora Loring, Cunard, Goldsmith, Allan-a-Dale, Compute and Cruzados serving as illustrations. About the only one of the recognized stars of the year that break over this rule is Endurance by Right and it can not rightly be said that she was severely campaigned.

The always placed list is small, the good colt Doyle's Commoner, now dead, Yankee, Goldsmith, Bonner, Endurance by Right, Buccleuth, La Montagne, Dr. Burns and Howell W. being those that never ran worse than third. The list is commended to students of form.

A SUGGESTION FROM MEMPHIS.

Having in view important possible action that may mark the annual meeting of the Western Jockey Club next Monday a gentleman of high standing in the affairs of the turf writes as follows to DAILY RACING FORM:

MEMPHIS, TENN., December 4.—A great many articles have appeared from time to time in the various papers about the fight between the two racing bodies of the west—namely, the Western Jockey Club and Turf Congress tracks. The clubs racing under the Western Jockey Club are: Washington Park Jockey Club, Chicago Jockey Club (Hawthorne), Harlem Jockey Club, New Memphis Jockey Club, New Louisville Jockey Club, Latonia Jockey Club and the Crescent City Jockey Club. The St. Louis Fair Association was originally one of the clubs of this organization, but, after the purchase of the Fair Grounds by the firm of Cella, Adler & Tilles, was withdrawn, and this club or firm about furnished all the strength of the Turf Congress tracks, composed of the following clubs: St. Louis Fair Association, Delmar Jockey Club, Nashville Jockey Club, Newport Jockey Club, Highland Park Jockey Club (Detroit). The trouble seemed to originate in the assignment of dates, which does not seem practical over the territory covered by these various organizations. Chicago will not be dictated to and will very likely open the season of 1902 some time in the month of April. St. Louis will also, with her three tracks, want to open one of them about the same time, and both of these cities will give continuous racing from then on to the middle of November. Cella, Adler & Tilles built the Delmar race track in St. Louis, and when they realized they could not get dates from the Western Jockey Club they purchased the Fair Grounds and organized the movement against the Western Jockey Club. They enlisted the good will of many horsemen, who cast their lot with them. They made such a good fight that today, if rumor be true, they are to be recognized and admitted with a representative to the Western Jockey Club. If they do desert the other organization they will certainly leave it in a bad way. In fact it would seem that the other clubs must bow their heads to the power and race under the rules of the Western Jockey Club, if they race at all.

The St. Louis management must realize the strength of the Western Jockey Club. Surely the conqueror would not surrender to the conquered. They fought a brave battle, but probably think like many other good generals that they had better make terms while they can without getting hurt than to go on with the chance to lose all. They may not be as strong as they were a year ago, and if success goes for anything, the Western Jockey Club is much stronger than it was when organized some nine or ten months ago. There is no denying its strength. Few are the horsemen who disqualified themselves last spring that would not be glad to be in good standing again with this body, and it is only pride that keeps the majority from asking.

The Western Jockey Club can do much good by allowing no club under its jurisdiction to give a race of less than $300 added by the club. As to the date assignments, the jockey clubs of each city should be the best judges of the number of days they should have and what dates they wish to give their meeting. In cities where more than one track is in operation under the sanction of the Western Jockey Club they should agree among themselves about the dates and the Jockey Club grant the dates as agreed, and if they cannot agree then the Western Jockey Club should divide the dates as they think just. To treat the horsemen fair, there should not be less than two race meetings in progress after the 1st of May, and after the 1st of June three.

There are probably 3,500 horses preparing to race in the west next season. Of this number about 750 will be ready to race the 1st of April, 1,500 the 1st of May, and about 2,500 the 1st of June. Few racetracks in the west can accommodate 1,000 head of horses, and as six races a day is the average program, if there is over 1,500 head at any track, many of the stables will not be able to make expenses, and in many cases can not even get to start a horse, yet have them ready and be anxious to run.

YEARLINGS AT SHEEPSHEAD BAY.

The pleasant weather that prevailed at Sheepshead Bay Monday had the effect of bringing the trainers and racers to the open in conspicuous numbers.

The track was harrowed during the morning, and, being in prime shape, scores of racers were sent to exercise over it. There was no speeding done, of course, but several sets of yearlings were sent to small gallops through the front stretch.

Trainer William O. Scully showed a set of four yearlings as follows:

Bay colt, by Faverdale—Adore.

Bay colt, by Longflight—Hoyden.

Chestnut colt, by Oondaga—Ray Belle.

Brown colt, by St. George—Marie Jensen.

The last named, which is a brother to Black Fox, is a crack on looks, and easily the pick of a fine quartet. He is the property of W. S. Fanshawe, and cost $3,000. Glennellie and Josepha have been sent to the Holmdel farm in New Jersey. Glennellie will be raced no more, but Josepha will be trained by Mr. Scully during the coming season.

J. H. McCreery has taken charge of the L. M. Meyers' horses, lately in the hands of trainer Scully. They are comfortably quartered in the old Albert Cooper stable on the backstretch, and are composed of Baron, Leonora Loring, Electress and eight yearlings. Trainer McCreery is well pleased with their present condition.

A. L. Aste has a lot of seven handsome yearlings that on breeding and looks are as promising as any set at the track. Their trials have been satisfactory and they are:

Chestnut colt, by Bassettlaw—Recollection.

Chestnut colt, by St. Carlo—Piquant.

Chestnut colt, by Watercross—Typhoon.

Black colt, by Fresno—Sister Warwick.

Bay colt, by Fitz James—Springlike.

Bay filly, by St. Andrew—Glad Eyes.

Chestnut filly, by Goldfinch—Margerique.

The last named is a half sister to Nasturtium, and in conformation and general make-up she is not unlike her great relative. Mr. Aste is well satisfied with his youngsters, and as he has had his share of success with thoroughbreds he has every reason to hope for the best.

At J. H. McAvoy's establishment a group of six yearlings were seen. On inspection they proved to be:

Bay colt, by Troubadour—Armita.

Brown colt, by Kingstock—Emeline.

Bay colt, by Aura—Virgie Castleman.

Bay filly, by G. W. Johnson—Hirney Hymal.

Bay filly, by Lord Esterling—Crescent II.

Chestnut filly, by Dr. MacBride—Titanium.

They are a smart looking lot as a whole and several of them are particularly promising. The colt by Aura—Virgie Castleman took my fancy as soon as he was led out. He has fine size and a look of quality that is most striking. He has been satisfactorily tried, and I should be disappointed if he does not race.

The bay colt by Troubadour—Armita is of the blocky sort and has a wear and tear look that should make him show to advantage. The brown colt by Kingstock—Emeline is a sturdily built youngster and should do the establishment credit. The fillies are a smart trio, and, wintering well, should go to the races with success. Mr. McAvoy is fond of training yearlings. He has patience and perseverance, and his youngsters should show up in the spring in proper shape.

Thomas Green has a pair of handsome yearling fillies that were seen jogging around the track. They stepped their paces neatly, and looked the part of good material. Their descriptions are as follows:

A SUGGESTION FROM MEMPHIS.

The Western Jockey Club should strive to have pure racing and force the clubs to hang up good purses, make racing clean and high class, grant license to clubs that will give only the right kind of racing—nothing less than $300 added to any event, and that race strictly under the rules of the Western Jockey Club.

The American Turf Congress was destroyed on account of the ill feeling caused by that organization trying to assign open dates to various clubs. It does not seem practical or possible to do justice to horsemen and clubs and confine racing to one track after the season is thoroughly open.

Chestnut filly, by Chorister—Ocean Queen.
Bay filly, by King Arthur—Ventnor.
The first-named miss turned a quarter in 24 seconds in her trial, and the King Arthur—Ventnor youngster did the trick in close to the same time. Trainer Green will leave in a day or two to have a look at his good racer, Dr. Barlow, which is wintering near Glens Falls, N. Y. The Doctor went amiss at Saratoga just as he was ready for a race, and was sent to Glens Falls to be fired and blistered. He is ready to return to his home quarters, but the trainer thinks some walking around in the snow will do much toward hardening and improving his legs.

Trainers A. J. Joyner, Frank McCabe, Peter Wimmer and others had sets of yearlings on the track during the morning, and in the mild atmosphere the young things frisked about gallantly.

There are many improvements going on at the course, and it will put on a smarter appearance during the coming season than ever before. The club has purchased more ground on the outside of the backstretch, where new stables will be erected.

A fine stable is being built for the S. S. Brown racers, and Trainer Peter Wimmer will occupy it as soon as it is finished. There will be twenty-two stalls for the horses, besides a kitchen and living quarters for the men and boys.—Daily America.

NOTES OF THE TURF.

Robert Waddell, the crippled winner of the American Derby, was shipped from Hammond, Indiana to "Pa" Bradley's farm in Virginia last Wednesday afternoon. The gelding is still in a bad condition although it is the opinion of a number of horsemen that saw him put on the cars that he will recover and race again. His shoulder has not yet mended much and it was with difficulty that he was taken from Lakeside to Hammond, Indiana. He stepped with the injured leg with much difficulty and hopped rather than walked from the track to the car. One-half of an express car was used for Waddell's stall. Owing to the fact that the gelding could not stand strong on all four legs and would thus be likely to fall with the lurching of the car, the sides and end of the car were well padded. "Possum," the stable man who was left at Lakeside to care for Robert Waddell, went east in charge of the little gelding. "Possum" was instructed to keep Robert Waddell lying down as much as possible during the trip in order to provide against any injury through the movement of the train.

Ex-Senator M. L. Harbeson and J. L. Ellison, of Covington, were at Lexington, Ky., yesterday taking depositions in the $12,000 suit against the Latonia Jockey Club, filed by Hart Gibson, Jr., because of the death of the race mare Pirate Belle, which was killed by running into a fence at Latonia. Depositions of Milton Young and "Bill" Lester, William Fields and others were secured each in regard to the value of the filly. The estimate ranged from $5,000 to $12,000.

Went to post at 2:04. At post 4 minutes. Start good. Won ridden out; second driving. Automaton ran a surprisingly good race and tipped his field all the way, but was tiring at the end. Masterful was hard ridden all the way and showed improvement. Ida Penzance saved ground on all turns and ran her race. Fake was never a strong factor and can do much better. Churchill ran well. Went to post at 2:37. At post 4 minutes. Start good. Won easily; second the same. Orla showed great speed, spreadeagled her field and was never fully extended. Lingo was slow about getting into motion, but came fast at the end and was easily the best of the others. Ben Hullum ran well for the first half but weakened at the end and the race should improve him. Ernest Parham was cut off soon after the start. He ran impressively afterwards. King Tatus had no mishaps. Ada S. G. showed a smart flash of speed but quit after going five-eighths.

Went to post at 3:08. At post 2 minutes. Start good. Won easily; second the same. Glisando took the obstacles in his stride, showed the most speed through the field and was never fully extended. Dangerline ran well, but by no means impressively. Dick Furber refused to extend himself in the first turn of the field, but came fast at the end. Divertment faltered in the last fifty yards. Robert Morrison fenced well for a beginner.

Winner—B. g. by Free Knight—Cassandra.
Went to post at 3:43. At post 7 minutes. Start poor. Won handily; second driving. Tom Kingsley broke well in motion and tipped his field for the first three-quarters, but the effort told and he had to be hard ridden in the final furlong. Andes and Velma Clark fought it out sharply through the stretch and the former was going the stronger at the end. The start affected both their chances materially, as they were both in a tangle when the field broke. Menace made a bid in the final sixteenth, but was in the worst going, and this caused her to weaken. Grantor showed early speed and will improve from this race.
Overweights—Menace, 11 pounds.
No show betting on first three.

Banish was easily the best of the others. Dorothy Lee had a stormy journey but ran well and finished stoutly. Bean was handicapped by a bad ride. Laura's First showed early speed and is worth remembering. Henry (f Treatmare) can do better.

Went to post at 4:50. At post 9 minutes. Start good. Won in a drive; second handily. Mr. Phinzy was under restraint for over five furlongs, saved much ground on the stretch turn and when brought to a drive stood punishment gamely. Maple was slightly interfered with on the stable turn and Robertson delayed his run too long. She finished fast and strongly. Donator ran his race and had no mishaps. Ed Gartland II showed early speed, but does not favor a long route. Elen Paxton was badly ridden. Frank McConnell quit badly after going a half and can do much better. Dispolute showed early speed.

Went to post at 2:16. At post 1 minute. Start good. Won easily; second easily. Milas was waited with under a pull to the stretch, where he went to the front and finished well in hand. He is a grand looker and should develop into something smart. The Maniac finished fast and should win soon. Wandering Boy showed distinct improvement. Los Angeleno broke and ran green throughout, but was running great guns at the end. He looks and is bred like a stake colt and will do to watch. King Herald looked big and was evidently short. He showed a good deal of early speed. Sir Claud showed some improvement and will be heard from.

Flamaro waited on the pacemaker to the far turn, where he went to the front, was never extended and was much the best. Nonie, a quick breaker, was easily best on a speed basis and clever handling made her last out although inclined to quit at the end. Phyllis ran well and stayed better than heretofore. GOSSIP OF THE TURF.

Quite a collection of sporting celebrities arrived at New York from Europe on the Oceanic yesterday morning. "Jimmie" Morgan headed a party of American jockeys, Charley Thorpe, Al Songer and the Waldo brothers, all of whom have been riding with more or less success in European countries. Morgan was the most successful of the quintet of riders. He rode for the prime minister of Austria, G. H. Von Rohonzy, during the past season with great success. Morgan's salary for the season was 14,500 gulden, equivalent to about $7,000 in the coin of the United States. Morgan made as much more from valuable gifts. Baron Springer, of Austria, had second call on Morgan's services. During the season Morgan had thirty-six winning mounts, twenty-eight seconds and twenty-five thirds. He will return to Austria next year.

Unsignightly, the four-year-old mare by Purse-bearer—Hira Villa, is now the property of William McGuigan, who first trained and raced her. Unsignightly was the property of R. J. Hiner and was put up in the recent sale of thoroughbreds at Lexington, Ky. During the bidding, while she was on the block, Hiner became angry at the way things were going and got the mare, paying $700 for her. Yesterday Mr. McGuigan expressed a desire to purchase the mare and a bargain was soon struck, the price paid being $1,000.

NOTES OF THE TURF.

A. & B., Chicago. (1) Kingston was a brown horse; (2) Kingston started in three races at Garfield Park in 1891; (3) The starters for the race in which Marion C. defeated Kingston were Marion C., 119, Kingston, 124, Aloha, 124 and Verge d'Or, 122.

Glissando is proving to be very successful over the sticks. He has won twice out of three starts and bids fair to be a crackerjack at the infield game.

It is thought that T. F. Dolan who bought Jean Berand a few days ago at the Woodard & Shanklin sale in Lexington, Ky., will race the colt again.

Ed Corrigan is expected to arrive in Chicago today from New York on his way to his breeding farm in California.

William C. Whitney the well known turf magnate has spent over $200,000 for two-year-olds in the last year.
